The DIMMER VIEW

by Max Goodwin

Can United Nations Survive?

By the time this is being read Daniel Patrick Moynihan, Harvard professor of government and more recently U.S. ambassador to India, may be U.S. ambassador to the United Nations.

His task is an almost hopeless one — based on the performance of the UN in months past.

Most thoughtful analysts have been saying for a long time that the UN at best is a debating society; at worst it demonstrates what awful things can occur when irresponsibility is linked arm-in-arm with the tyranny of a majority.

It was John Scali, former newsman, a capable U.S. representative to the UN who warned against the "tyranny of the majority" and cited foolish and useless resolutions being passed by the world body with the backing of the Soviet Union and the Third World. For all of his ability he was unable to stop the tide.

Moynihan once said "It is time to go into the UN and every other international forum and start raising hell."

If appointed, and if he follows his own admonition, Moynihan may be more successful. But he'll need more clout than just words. Our entire nation must be led into a philosophy of believing in ourselves, our nation, and our government. And the leadership must come from government. Believability can be accomplished only when government purges itself of those who lie to us, steal from us and pervert our Constitution.

During the nearly three decades of its existence the UN turned in a sorry track record. During those years the U.S. didn't once have to cast a veto in the UN Security Council. The Soviet Union, on the other hand, regularly vetoed UN action through its permanent seat on the Council. Usually those vetoes were aimed at sustaining communist-inspired aggression.

Today, the tables have turned. The irresponsible minority of sovereign States comprising the UN minority has become a majority. In 1974 alone, this majority:

— Suspended South Africa from the session, in clear violation of Article 5 of the UN Charter which grants such power to the Security Council alone.

— Welcomed Yasir Arafat — head of the murderous Palestine Liberation Organization — to the UN with all the pomp befitting a legitimate head of state.

— Granted permanent UN observer status to the PLO and recognition of its right to independence in "Palestine"— meaning "in Israel," a member State.

— Curbed Israel's right to speak during the debate on the Middle East.

The NEW YORK TIMES, which traditionally has been high on the world body, threw up its editorial arms in disgust at the end of the 29th UN General Assembly.

"What was alarmingly new about Assembly No. 29 was the zest with which the majority . . . disregarded the rules by which any such body must function and violated the spirit, if not always the letter, of the UN Charter in a vain effort to work its will," TIMES said.

The SAN DIEGO UNION in an editorial Sunday said, "The moment has arrived in history when we can no longer sit mute while the Third World and the Soviet Union seize the rostrum and use it to attack us; while the UN debates over resolutions that are either obscure or wrong; while it interferes in the internal affairs of such nations as South Africa but remains silent while 25 million men and women drop behind the bamboo curtain of Southeast Asia."

These assessments are correct. Weaker nations which overwhelmingly comprise the capricious majority must look beyond the intoxication of their irrelevant "victories" in Assembly ballot to the larger, more compelling issue.

That issue is the survival of the United Nations.

Five Here To Win Foster Home Awards

Foster parents will be feted tonight at Cafe del Rey Moro in Balboa Park.

Five such parents from Lemon Grove and Spring Valley will be among those honored.

Each year a day is set aside to recognize the community service being provided by the County's foster parents. Foster homes are established by San Diego County to provide youngsters with families that can give the youngsters the love and care they need.

Awards tonight will be for 5, 10 and 15 years.

From Lemon Grove is the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Byard, 1952 Dartmoor dr.—5 years.

From Spring Valley are these: Mr. and Mrs. John Brannon, 8695 Tyler st. — 5 years.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Guthrie, 115 Colbert dr. — 5 years.

Mr. and Mrs. William Terry, 3235 Kenora—10 years.

Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Foster, 9448 Piedmont st.—15 years.

Guest speaker at the function will be Dr. Robert L. Geiser, chief psychologist, Nazareth Child Care Center, Jamaica Plain, Mass. He wrote "The Illusion of Caring—Child in Foster Care."

NAFC Week

Overall, "National Action for Foster Children Week" is May 18-24. The foster home licensing section of S.D. County Welfare Department has organized "Operation Foster Lift" to attract awareness among S. D. residents that there are many San Diego children in need of foster homes. At present 57 children are on waiting lists—a problem that has become complicated by the arrival at Camp Pendleton of the Vietnamese war orphans.

Teenagers will be flown to Sacramento and back Monday, May 19, courtesy of PSA. The group will meet with State Senator Jack Schrade and possibly Gov. Jerry Bown to discuss the needs of the County's foster home programs.

Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday PSA will fly 15 foster children on daily round-trips to Los Angeles. The children will enjoy the trip, tour the airport facilities, and have lunch courtesy of Host International.

Many of the 57 children needing foster homes have some emotional problems and some have physical handicaps which require special attention. Mostly the children are "hard to place" simply because they are over 12 years old.

Welfare Department Project

Sandra Bello, administrative volunteer with the County Welfare Department, is spearheading "Operation Foster Lift".

Taxpayers For Incorporation

Lake, Dorman, Stenbeck To Head Cityhood Group

Dell Lake, past president of the Lemon Grove Chamber of Commerce and member of the Lemon Grove Fire Protection District board, was appointed chairman of Taxpayers for Incorporation last week on Wednesday.

Jim Dorman, attorney, school trustee, and member of the fire board, together with John Stenbeck, president of SGS, a real estate firm, were named co-chairmen.

About 400 persons attended the evening meeting at Golden Avenue School auditorium. After selecting officers they were asked that 50% of the total membership of each committee consist of residents rather than businessmen, of Lemon Grove. Some businessmen are residents of other communities, it was noted.

Volunteers

Volunteers were accepted for chairmen of three committees after Dorman explained the need for starting the procedures for incorporation immediately to make good a June 1976 election.

John Ott, captain of the L.G. Fire Department, volunteered to chair the boundary committee; Bob Swanson, 8225 Golden ave., director of Imperial Beach's Parks and Recreation Department, volunteered to head the incorporation form committee. There are two forms of incorporation. In one form — the standard incorporation — the election issue is for incorporation alone. Existing districts are not affected.

The other, a newer form, is incorporation through district reorganization. A study of delivery of municipal services would be used to decide who would be the provider agency. In either form public hearings would be called and an election would be required with a majority vote determining the outcome.

Other volunteers are Karen Thomson, 1805 Primera st. and Marilyn Linn, 3221 Lemon lane, co-chairmen of the public information committee. Mrs. Linn is wife L.G. school board trustee John Linn.

Must Clear LAFCO

Also present were John Detweiler of the Local Agency Formation Commission (LAFCO) the commission through which all elements of the proposed project must clear, and Charlotte Langley, who researched the 39-page study which showed Lemon Grove could adequately finance itself as a city. Both answered numerous questions.

A petition signed by five per cent of the town's 27,000 inhabitants would be necessary to set the incorporation through reorganization process in motion, Langley said. The County Board of Supervisors would be the initiating agency and would assume all costs involved in it, she said.

LAFCO would do an environmental impact study and set up a reorganization committee of affected agencies. Fire, sewer, light and park districts would be among those considered. Public hearing would follow.

Boundaries

One of the first problems will be the boundaries, it was indicated. Much door-to-door checking is indicated along the Lemon Grove-Spring Valley boundaries. The boundaries submitted by the boundary committee would probably be changed by LAFCO or the Board of Supervisors. Both organizations would be required to hold public hearings before the lines are permanently drawn.

Langley said the estimated reduction of 43 cents for each $100 of assessed valuation is "very conservative". It will reduce the property tax bill considerably more than that, she said at the meeting.

Lake is meeting with committee chairmen this week to get the "show on the road."

It is hoped that the election, if successful, will be called in time to permit the City of Lemon Grove to be formed in the nation's 200th anniversary —July 4, 1976.

The United States was formed to rid itself of taxation without representation, he noted. To a degree, the same situation exists here, he said.

It was suggested that the American Flag become the symbol of the new city, if it is formed.

Man Charged With Altering Drug Rx

An El Cajon man attempted to pass an altered prescription at the Lemon Grove Rexall Drug store May 6—and failed.

An alert clerk called the doctor who said the prescription had been issued for 10 tablets of a sleeping drug rather than 100.

When sheriff's deputies took Clyde Charles Braly, 24, in custody he allegedly said, "Yeah, I did it," and asked to be allowed to call his lawyer who he said is representing him on a cocaine charge now pending in court.

He also asked to be allowed to wait for his girlfriend who was driving around Lemon Grove because no parking space was available at the drug store corner.

The girlfriend, a 17-year old Lemon Grove girl who lives on Ida st., soon drove up and deputies noted green vegetable matter on the car's seat. It proved to be marijuana. In the car was also a photo of the girl posed with a large marijuana leaf.

Following an examination of the auto, she was charged with possession of marijuana.

Braley will be arraigned in El Cajon Municipal Court on a felony charge.

The girl was referred to juvenile authorities.

Alligator Clip Tips Deputies

Sheriff's deputies said Robert Rosario Lienza, 22, of 1034 Gillespie dr., Spring Valley, was unsteady on his feet as he hitch-hiked home Sunday at 8 p.m. near Jamacha rd. and Jamacha lane.

Investigating, officers found a strong odor of alcohol on his breath and an alligator clip hanging from his belt. They also found 15.6 grams of marijuana in his pockets, together with two roaches and cigarette papers.

He was charged with possession of marijuana and of marijuana paraphernalia.

He is being arraigned in El Cajon Municipal Court.

Ex-Patients Return

In observance of National Hospital Week, May 11-17, Children's Hospital and Health Center welcomed back former patients of its Intensive Care Unit, many of whom spent their first critical days of life there.

The celebration and reunion held Tuesday marked the fifth year the pediatric ICU has been in operation

U.S. Elevator Gets $3 Million Contract

Washington Public Power Supply System of Richland, Washington, has awarded U.S. Elevator Corporation a contract valued at more than $3 million for special freight elevators, the Spring Valley, company announced.

Twelve cable-driven elevators and four dumbwaiters will be installed in two WPPSS nuclear power plants by the Cubic Corp. subsidiary. Engineering work on the pact has begun with deliveries scheduled in a two-year time frame.

The concern is the sixth largest producer of elevators in the country. It maintains a $250,000 sq. ft. facility in Spring Valley and operates sales and service offices nationally.

Officers Seize Marijuana Plants

Sheriff's deputies report that they seized marijuana plants and three baggies of marijuana at the home of David Primo Lopez, 8357½ Palm st., Lemon Grove, on May 5.

Lopez was not at home when the material was taken. A complaint was issued for Loren Benjamin Lewis, 19, of the same address.

Officers returned at 7:30 p.m. and arrested the two men. Lewis, they said, was packed and leaving by a rear entrance when they arrived.

They will be arraigned in El Cajon Municipal Court.

Loses Wallet and $250

A newspaperman with $250! Or rather, he had it.

Paul D. Clark, of 10010 San Juan, Spring Valley, publisher of the Heartland News, told sheriff's deputies that he made a purchase at Groats Auto Part shop at 9746 Campo rd. and apparently lost his wallet after paying for his purchase.

In addition to $250 in cash, the wallet contained his social security card and driver's license.

Impact Report Asked For S.V. Development

SPRING VALLEY — The County of San Diego has received a draft environmental impact report (EIR) for Vista Del Lago Estates.

Vista Del Lago Estates, Unit No. 2, involves a subdivision of 21 acres into 71 lots for single family dwellings. The property is located in the La Presa area of Spring Valley, one-fourth mile north of Sweetwater Reservoir. The review period ends on June 2.

The EIR draft for the project is available for review at the Lemon Grove Library.

All comments on the draft EIR's must be submitted in writing to the Office of Environmental Management by the end of the review periods.

Boys Burglarize Lunch Wagon

Alice Lois Camacho, and her husband, of 3903 Conrad dr., Casa d' Oro, were walking their dog Sunday about 10:15 when he noted two youths with the doors to her lunch wagon open.

Mrs. Camacho, operator of a Staites Lunch Wagon Service truck, shouted at the youths and they fled with hands full of things such as fruit pies, canned fruit drinks, sunflower seeds and other sundries.

She recognized one of the youths and gave his name to sheriff's deputies.

L.G. School Budget Climbs 6%

A projected budget of $4,554,409 was presented to trustees of the Lemon Grove School District at a meeting held Tuesday evening. The budget outline, presented to the board by Assistant Superintendent for Business Services Paul Reynolds, reflected an approximate six percent increase over the current fiscal budget.

Reynolds, in introducing the projection to board members, pointed out that the budget would allow for a 3 per cent per $100 assessed valuation decrease for next school year, based on assessed valuation estimates. The reduction, he explained, is possible due to a 5 per cent increase in state funding through SB 90.

Built into the new budget is a 2.7 per cent raise for school employees, an extension of the salary increase negotiated earlier this year and put into effect in April. The raise amounts to an estimated additional expense by District of $81,500.

Fringe benefit costs for employees will climb sharply next year, Superintendent Dr. Robert Sutton explained, due mainly to rising Blue Shield costs. Benefit expenses are expected to rise 15-20 per cent costing an additional $40,000 over last year's figures.

VFW Poppy Sale Here This Week

It's Buddy Poppy Time this week.

This year the days are Friday and Saturday.

Once a year the Veterans of Foreign Wars Posts and Auxiliaries sell artificial poppies on the streets, in shopping centers and wherever people gather. Proceeds assist veterans in hospitals and those with needy families.

Funds are also supplied to the VFW National Home at Eaton Rapids, Michigan — a home for orphans of deceased veterans.

Locally, Lemon Grove VFW Post 2087 will be on the streets with poppies.

The slogan, as always, is "Honor the Dead by Helping the Living."

Church Filing Delay Costly

Churches here have allowed the March 15 deadline to pass without filing in time to receive the full church exemption allowed them by law, according to County Assessor E. C. Williams.

Records show that this costly practice is growing," Williams said. "45 churches filed late this year in contrast to 34 in 1974. However, six of these were new churches who may not have been completely familiar with the filing laws and procedures."

The Assessor has no legal obligation to make certain that each church files a claim but it is the policy of his office to mail out claim forms each year to all eligible church groups who are on record at his office.

"The law does not allow for any excuses for late filing and March 15 at 5 p.m. is the date established for a timely filing," Williams said. "However, our legislators have been lenient by also placing in the law a provision that allows churches to file a late claim for 90% of the exemption until March 1 of the following year."

Costs Both

From a cost standpoint it is preferable for both the church and his offices to have these claims filed on time. "The church loses 10% of the exemption, up to $250 while his office has added administrative costs because of changing the records and the assessment roll to show the applicant to have a tax exempt status."

Church exemptions were first provided by law in 1900. Since that time there has been a steady increase in the amount of property value taken off the tax roll that has qualified for this exemption. In 1975 the amount is 148 million dollars in market value.

Since 1937 the number of churches has increased from 258 to the current number of 939. The market value of church property during the same period has increased by 215%.

1% More Home Tax Payers Are Late

Real property taxes delinquent after the April 10 deadline showed an increase of almost one per cent over those last year, according to figures released this week by County Tax Collector James E. Jones. Property owners have until June 30 to pay delinquent accounts without incurring penalties and fees in addition to those already added to their bills.

Evening performances are staged Fridays and Saturdays at 8 p.m., May 30-June 14. 2 p.m. Matinees are scheduled for Sundays, June 1, 8 and 15. Admission is $3 for adults, $2 for seniors, servicemen, students and children.

Vacation Pass is Rip Off

The state Department of Consumer Affairs announced that numerous California consumers have received mail stating they had been "computer-selected" to receive a Las Vegas vacation. The letter promises consumers "the trip of a lifetime." For "only $15" the winner receives a "vacation certificate" for two to Las Vegas and a number of products and services worth, supposedly, $450.

In announcing the warning, C. A. Director Taketsugu Takei cited a 1971 law which prohibits offering prizes as part of an advertising campaign:

"Consumers should remember it is unlawful to notify a person, as part of an advertising scheme, that he has won a prize and then require him to purchase goods or services."

The Department has turned these complaints over to the State Attorney General's Office for prosecution.

The company involved is Columbia Research of Chicago. The approach is similar to that of Market Development Corp of Ohio which in 1973 and 1974 was the subject of suits brought by Attorney Generals in a number of states including California. In 1974 the California Courts enjoined Market Development from making such presentations.

In the past, consumers sent in their money to be put off by one promise after another until months later they had no trip, no gift package and were $15 poorer.

"Godspell," a sell-out last fall at the Old Globe, will run concurrently with the S. D. National Shakespeare Festival throughout the summer.

Mrs. Kenneth L. Unruh is general chairman of the Shakespeare Festival.

A yellow and white tent, pitched on the green alongside the Old Globe Theatre complex, will be the dinner setting.

Torbett Chills Bunco Artist

San Diego sheriff's fraud investigators saved a Los Angeles woman from being bilked out of $8,500 and captured a well known and wanted bunko artist in downtown San Diego last week.

Sheriff's Sgt. Bob Torbett said Milbus C. Brown, 32, of Los Angeles had approached an elderly "apparently confused" Los Angeles woman and convinced her he was her nephew from Louisiana.

"Brown, using the nephew's name, apparently talked the woman into withdrawing her life's savings, from the Los Angeles bank and accompanying him to Louisiana to invest the money in real estate," he said.

Torbett said the bank manager became suspicious and convinced the woman to accept only $150 in cash and take a cashier's check for the remaining $8,350.

"For some unknown reason the $8,350 was wired to San Diego and Brown and the victim flew here to pick up the money from the telegraph company," Torbett said.

Meanwhile, acting on a tip from Los Angeles, Sgt. Torbett staked out the Western Union office by San Diego's Horton Plaza. When Brown and the intended victim came to pick up the money he was arrested.

"It was not until we ran his fingerprints last night that we learned the man was actually Brown, who is also wanted in San Bernardino on a $10,000 warrant for a similar scheme.

He is being held in the County Jail on $25,000 bail, awaiting the arrival of Los Angeles authorities.

He will be taken there to face charges of grand theft and conspiracy to commit grand theft," Torbett said.

New Principal Named For St. Augustine

Rev. Anthony J. Wasko, O.S.A. (Order of St. Augustine), headmaster the past six years at Villanova Preparatory School, Ojai, Calif., has been named principal of St. Augustine High school, effective in June.

Appointment of Father Wasko to head the boys' Catholic high school was made by the Rev. Patrick J. Keane, O.S.A., St. Augustine principal the past thirteen years and recently elected as Provincial (religious superior) of the Order of St. Augustine's California province.

Father Wasko, 43, served on the St. Augustine staff from 1959 to 1969, teaching English and acting as advisor to the associated student body, the alumni association of the laity providing support for Augustinian candidates for the priesthood.

Born in Pennsylvania, Fr. Wasko attended Villanova University and the Augustinian College, Washington, D.C., for college and theological studies from 1952 to 1959. During his latter years in Washington, he also studied for his master's degree in speech and drama at the Catholic University of America, and during 1958-1959 was a student teacher at Archibishop Carroll High School.

Ordained a priest on June 7, 1958, he was assigned to San Diego a year later.

Class for Asthmatic Children Started at Y

Games, special exercises and swimming will soon be lessening the breathing problems of asthmatic children who sign up for physical conditioning classes to be held at the Copley YMCA, 3901 Landis ave., San Diego.

Classes, which will be held 3:30-5 p.m. on Tuesdays and Thursdays, starting May 27 and ending July 31, are cosponsored by the Lung Association of San Diego and Imperial Counties and the Easter Seal Society for Crippled Children and Adults of San Diego County, in cooperation with the YMCA.

Qualified professionals will instruct the children in physical education programs designed to improve their chronic condition.

Asthmatic children between the ages of six and 16 are eligible for the classes upon recommendation from a physician.

In conjunction with the physical conditioning classes for the children, their parents will have the opportunity to attend informational sessions at which specialists in dealing with asthmatics will speak on methods for bettering the parents' ability to deal with their children's breathing problems.

The cost for the entire program is $30 per child, but no child will be turned away because of the family's inability to afford this fee.

Applications must be returned to the YMCA by Monday.

HOME-COOKED This Week's RECIPE

Seafood Casserole With Rice is Nice

The high cost of everything doesn't mean that supercostly delicacies have to be banished from the dining table. One way to reduce the cost per serving of expensive protein foods is to use rice. The versatile cereal grain is more popular than ever as a meal stretcher — lending bulk without drowning the flavor of expensive ingredients.

Take the case of crabmeat. Served alone, it's prohibitively high. But crabmeat served with rice in a seafood casserole is quite another case — inexpensive enough to serve six, with all the delicate crabmeat flavor enhanced by the blandness of the rice. One way to dine elegantly — at a price that's easy to digest.

SEAFOOD CASSEROLE

½ cup chopped onion
1 cup sliced celery
2 Tbsps. butter or margarine
1 can (10 3/4 oz.) condensed cream of celery soup
1 package (1 lb.) frozen crab meat, thawed and cut into 1-inch chunks
1 can (7 oz.) pimiento, chopped
3 cups cooked rice
1 tsp. poultry seasoning
Salt and peper to taste
1 package (5 oz.) frozen French fried onion rings

Saute onion and celery in butter until tender-crisp. Add soup, crab meat, pimiento, rice and seasonings. Turn into greased 2-quart casserole. Top with onion rings. Bake in preheated 350° oven for 25 minutes. Serves six.

HollyPark Rematches Record Co-Holders

INGLEWOOD — A rematch between Modus Vivendi and Exotic Age, co-holders of the track record for six and one-half furlongs, is likely Saturday when Hollywood Park presents the second edition of the $15,000 Hawthorne Handicap as its feature attraction.

Carded at seven furlongs, the Hawthorne is for older fillies and mares and prominent prospects, in addition to the speedsters mentioned above, include stablemates Tizna and Lucky Spell, Sister Fleet and Dulcia.

Modus Vivendi first set the Hollypark 6½-furlong standard of 1:14 winning the 1974 Costa Mesa Handicap and she was a 3-5 favorite to duplicate that effort when the Costa Mesa was renewed two weeks ago.

However, it was Exotic Age who led from start to finish in taking the '75 Costa Mesa by six lengths and en route to equalling Modus Vivendi's record. She passed the six-furlong marker in 1:07 3/5.

Tizzna, heroine of the last two Santa Margaritas at Santa Anita, twice has won stakes at the Hawthorie route, while Lucky Spell, victress in five-added money events during her career, is fresh from an impressive turf course score.

Murrieta Hotel Site of 1975 Comedians' Golf

Murrieta Resort Hotel will be the new setting for the 14th Annual Comedians' Golf Classic, November 7-8-9th.

Jerry Lewis is the 1975 Chairman and Monty Hall, Jack Lemmon, Jan Murray, McLean Stevenson and Flip Wilson serve as Executive Committee of the fun-filled event.

There will be a number of additional competitions for the celebrities and business executives who are invited to participate. Among them, a "Tennis Tournament for Ex-Golfers" will make its debut. Other contests contemplated include Backgammon, Gin Rummy, Darts and Billiards, Executive Director Milton Blackstone said.

The Golf Derby, which the CGC introduced five years ago will be held on Friday, Nov. 7th, as will their traditionally humorous Mulligan Event, but will not be an "official" part of the golf competition which will be played over 36 holes to determine the best of the celebrity golfing ranks. A dozen or so touring pros are expected to participate in their Proxy Pro Am competition.

Rod Laver/Roy Emerson conduct the tennis activities at Murrieta, which is located about mid-point between San Diego, Los Angeles and Palm Springs, and are expected to take part in the comics' hijinks on the courts along with a number of funnymen who have forsaken golf for tennis of late.

In addition to naming their choice for their annual Humanitarian & Mulligan Awards, they will name their Pro of the Year in both golf and tennis.

The Comedians' Golf Classic and other games will once again benefit Friends of Handicapped Children's "Care Village" project for multi-handicapped youngsters.

Lujan Wins 16th, Hafey to Return

The home telecast of the Muhammad Ali-Ron Lyle heavyweight title bout has washed out local boxing promotor Mickey Davis' weekly Friday fight card at the Coliseum.

Davies said title bouts are so infrequently telecast live that many of the Coliseum fans would want to see it.

"It's a championship fight and the price is right," Davies said.

The Ali-Lyle showdown, together with a light heavyweight duel between W.B.A. champion Victor Galindez and New York's Ray Elson, will be seen over home television.

The program starts at 6 p.m. on TV 39.

When Coliseum boxing resumes next Friday, May 23, a double main event featuring Irish Art Hafey and Rudy Hernandez will be on tap. Hafey, the world's third ranked featherweight, will headline in one scheduled 10 rounder, while Hernandez, an unbeaten teenage lightweight, will vie in the second attraction.

Last week, Manuel Lujan, the unbeaten featherweight schoolboy, won his 16th straight fight beating Jose Olivares into submission at 2:50 of the sixth round of a schedule ten round main event.

TAKE FIVE

By John E. Wirges

Shades of Jesse James, The Dalton Boys and "Dead Eye" Dick, the deed was dirty in the doing. Deane Beman, the Commissioner of the Tournament Player's Division of the PGA done stole the rug out from under La Costa's Tournament of Champions.

In the old days they'd string him up for such doings. It's a simple case of "he saw what he liked and he took it." Outright outlawry.

The Tournament of Champions is (oops, was) one of the most prestigious events on the pro golf tour. Only winners of regular PGA events and the British Open get invited to play.

It was kicked off in Las Vegas back in 1953 and became an instant success with the players.

Back in those days total purses for a year on the tour dribbled up to $362,704, and the leading money winner, Lew Worsham, banked $34,000, or just about what a first place finish nets tour guys today.

Things weren't all that good for pro golfers in those days. It wasn't until 1958 total purses got up to $1 million. And, even then, it was cut a lot of ways. Arnold Palmer collected $42,607 and was the leading money winner.

It wasn't until 10 years after the Tournament of Champions started pumping new life and hard cash into the PGA tour that Palmer cracked the $100,000 barrier. Golf and the T of C grew up together.

Television and Palmer, then Lee Trevino and Jack Nicklaus; along with some smart show-casing (like the T of C and celebrity tourney play) jacked the game out of exclusive setting of lush country clubs and dropped golf smack in Joe Everybody's living room.

First it was Palmer who brought the crowds, then Lee Trevino came out of Texas hittin' a taped-up Dr. Pepper bottle right down the middle to capture the 1968 U.S. Open and golf became a sport for the non-college, hard working, scrape-for-a-buck bunch. They were the core of the ticket buying crowds. Television sponsors loved 'em. Each and every one.

FANS DUG TofC

And the only tourney that really captured the imagination of all these new fans was the Tournament of Champions.

The Big Four, U.S. and British Opens, Masters and PGA, all stemmed from back when golf was for the select few. Old hat, old school tie and all that old stuff.

The T of C was their dish, and the players, too. The Tournament of Champions, for all of its 23 years superbly managed as a truly first class operation by the gentle hand of Allard Roen, grew so prestigiously high in the eyes of touring pros, there was talk of the Big Five.

Name pros have wondered aloud why the T of C was not rated a "major" test, especially since its transfer in 1969 to the "Open Level" toughness and exquisitely demanding finishing holes at the La Costa Country Club.

The likes of Jack Nicklaus, Gary Player, Johnny Miller and Lee Trevino have raved about the course and the tourney. The T of C is certainly "major" to them.

It would seem its very popularity and success was cause for its undoing. Greed being the hand tool of management these days.

Just a few months ago the PGA announced it had become sole owner of the World Series of Golf, a mini event produced mostly for TV matching in a foursome the winners of the Big Four.

The "new" World Series will be expanded to include winners of several other events and a handful of "selected" players.

Why, it almost seems as if a "new" Tournament of Champions were being "created" under a different name to replace the one being dismissed.

And the whole thing will be under the control of Commissioner Deane Beman, the boy wonder who played "amateur" golf while wresting a fortune from the insurance dodge, then turned pro and waltzed his way into power of the tour.

TOOK A CUT OF CHARITY

The same Deane Beman who showed his "hunger" last January by demanding a majority chunk of the charity money raised by Bing Crosby's tourney. Beman apparently likes to throw his weight around, but then most empire builders go for that sort of thing.

Golf is a very big thing with John Q. Fan and Charlie Public. Enough of us common herd watch TV's golf doing to pump more than $8 million into tour purses. The game has public support, hard-earned over the years.

But an over-active greed gland by the gang running the show could tumble that support down on their ears overnight.

The Tournament of Champions has been a giant factor in building golf into the big earning enterprise it has become. And now the T of C has received the commissioner's thoughtful gratitude.

Beman has done what no other golf official has ever done. He reached out and plucked a juicy plum from the tournament tree and transplanted into his own garden.

Why, with ability like that, he ought to run for public office.

In addition to her work at San Diego State, Spooner has also served as a trainer for Wilt's Wonder Women track team, as well as for the San Diego Indoor Games.

Padres Open Homestand Friday Against League Leading Cubs

The first homestand of the season featuring opponents from the National League's Eastern Division is on the agenda this week for the San Diego Padres as they prepare for a 10-game stay in the familiar confines of San Diego Stadium.

The homestand, the only one scheduled for the month of May, will get underway Friday, with three straight meetings with the Chicago Cubs. The Friday and Saturday affairs will go at 7 p.m. while the Sunday contest will start at 1 p.m.

Saturday's tiff could result in one of the top crowds of the season as the game will be Let's Dine Out Helmet Night with the first 25,000 youngsters 14 and under receiving free souvenir Padre batting helmets courtesy of the Let's Dine Out Company. Last season's Helmet Night attracted a record crowd of 44,504 for the Padres go-around with the Cincinnati Reds.

Cubs and Cards

The St. Louis Cardinals, complete with the all-time record base-stealing combo of Lou Brock and Bake McBride, will follow the Cubs into town. The Pads and Cards will square off May 19-20-21 at 7 p.m.

Lastly, the Pittsburgh Pirates will be around for four meetings, May 22-25 with the first three games scheduled for 7 p.m. and the finale on Sunday, May 25 going at the usual 1 p.m. time.

"The fans are going to see three different types of teams in the homestand," San Diego manager John McNamara said. "In Chicago you've got a club which is featuring younger pitchers much like ourselves along with, basically, a pretty young overall team.

"St. Louis has tremendous base runners in Brock and McBride and has solid hitters virtually all the way around. Last season, for example, Brock, McBride and Reggie Smith all hit over .300, giving them the best outfield hitting group in the league.

"As for the Pirates," continued the Padre boss, "what more can you say than they are one of the most powerful hitting clubs in either league. A mistake in pitching to some of their men usually means a tape-measure home run."

Dineen Finds Route To E.C. Oval Lead

EL CAJON — Round six of the El Cajon Stock Car Racing Assn. super-stock season is Saturday night at Cajon Speedway with John Dineen of El Cajon shooting for his third win in a row in his potent Mustang.

Dineen, a former Western Grand National driver, has dominated the last two 30-lap main events on Cajon's 3/8 mile paved oval by winning both features from front row starting positions.

By virtue of back-to-back wins the El Cajon mechanic has broken into the top 10 in ECSCRA points after sitting out the main event in the first two shows this season. He finished second in 1973 ECSCRA points, losing the title by only five points to Pat McIntyre of Spring Valley.

Big Experiment

1975 was to be the year of the big experiment for Dineen and his crew as they started the season with a front wheel drive Tornado drive-train under the Mustang body. After numerous handling difficulties the first two weeks of the season, a conventional rear wheel drive-train was installed.

The results were immediate. Dineen qualified for the featured but spun out on lap 3 while in second place. The past two weeks he got it all together to grab off the wins.

Saturday night will also mark the second appearance of the Powder Puff drivers. In last month's show Barb Baxter of El Cajon scored an easy victory over defending champion Joy Swentkofske and now leads the 1975 title chase.

Qualifying gets under way at 6:30 with the first of the nine racing events set for 8.

Mariners Arena Season Called 'Lot of Progress'

A trip to the semi-final round of World Hockey Association playoff competition, the best stretch drive of any league team and the individual scoring champion are among the efforts of the San Diego Mariners as they have concluded 1974-75 activity and set their sights on next year.

Picked to finish last in the league's Western Division by virtually all pre-season selectors, San Diego capped its first term of WHA play by winning nine and tieing one of its last eleven appearances. That rush put the Mariners in second place behind Houston and ahead of Minnesota, Phoenix and Baltimore.

Moving into post-season playoff action, San Diego disposed of the Canadian Division Toronto Toros in a quarter final series, four games to two, but was turned away by Houston in the semis in four games.

After two straight last place finishes when the franchise was located first in New York and then in New Jersey, the second place windup this season surprised most of the prognosticators.

Progress Noted

"We made an awful lot of progress during the season," assessed player-coach Harry Howell. "Overall, it was a very gratifying year."

Individually, center Andre Lacroix climaxed his best season by winning his second WHA scoring title. Lacroix picked up five goals and 12 assists in his last five games to end with 147 points (41 goals, 106 assists), five more than runnerup Bobby Hull of Winnipeg.

He also set three league marks with his assists (106), consecutive games with assists (16), and consecutive games scoring (32). He is the first major league player ever to score at least 40 goals and 100 assists in one year.

King Lacroix

Lacroix, who won the point crown in 1972-73 and finished second last year, is now the WHA's all-time scoring leader with 382 points in the league's three-year history.

Right winger Wayne Rivers also had his finest campaign, ending with 107 points on 54 goals and 53 assists. He led all WHA players in scoring at his position.

In addition, Mariner Kevin Morrison topped all defensemen with 81 points (20 goals and 61 assists), the second straight season he has led the league in this category.

In the nets, Ernie Wakely, purchased from Winnipeg, Jan. 3, finished third among WHA goaltenders with a 3.25 goals against average.

Overall, the Mariners won 43, lost 31 and tied 4 to conclude with 90 points. San Diego was 26-11-2 at home and 17-20-2 on the road during regular season competition.

Six and Six

San Diego won six and tied six of its 13 six-game season series. The Mariners held edges over Houston (5-1), Quebec (4-2), Indianapolis (4-2), Vancouver (5-1), Minnesota (3-2-1) and Baltimore (3-2-1). They split with Phoenix, Toronto, Edmonton, New England, Cleveland and Chicago and had a losing record only against Winnipeg (1-3-2).

San Diego was 14-8-2 against Western Division teams, 16-12-2 vs. Canadian clubs and 13-11 against the East. The Mariners won at least one game at home against each team and failed to win on the road only at Winnipeg (0-1-2).

San Diego attendance started slowly but picked up rapidly as the season progressed, with final figures showing 237,118 fans in 39 home games for a 6,080 average. In 39 road appearances, the Mariners played before 281,897, an average of 7,228.

State Seeks More Business from Small Firms

The State of California is big business. It purchases everything from bulldozers to paper clips in order to provide the services expected of State government.

Small businesses have had an opportunity to compete with the larger, established firms in providing these services since the passage of the Small Business Act (AB 1816) which became law on January 1, 1974. The bill established the Small Business Office under the Department of General Services to work with the State Office of Procurement in providing opportunities for small business.

Getting Plugged In

Since its inception, results have been encouraging, but not satisfying. Now, newly appointed General Services' Director Leonard Grimes is interested in increasing the participation of small business firms in the State's purchases.

According to Grimes, "What we have here is a situation where what we'd like to happen is going on, but not to the extent we'd prefer. Small businesses have received some help, but not nearly enough to produce the results intended by the passage of the Small Business Act.

"We intend to increase their participation by stepping up our own efforts and cutting through some of the paperwork. We'd like to invite more small business firms to contact us to see how we can help them get plugged into the system."

The Office of Procurement purchases material, equipment, and supplies for most State agencies. Commodities whose total cost per purchase runs over $1,000 still have to go through the bidding system, but small firms are given a 5% preference. If subtracting 5% makes them the lowest bidder, they'll win the contract. There have been many instances, however, where small firms have been the lowest bidder without using the preference.

No Bids

There are many areas in which small businesses have received few or no invitations to bid. These are the areas where the Office of Procurement would like to see an increased competition. Items such as auto parts, stationery and office supplies, clothing, agricultural supplies and feeds, office machines, and a great many food items fall into this category.

Purchases totaling under $1,000 do not require the extensive bidding procedure. These items are handled through the Express Line Purchasing program. This is a system of collecting quotations over the phone — reducing both paperwork and the time between the receipt of the request and the issuance of a purchase order.

"Purchases of this type represent 80% of the Department's transactions, yet only 15% to 20% of our dollar value."

During February, 22% of these purchases were awarded to small businesses. Commodities purchased through this program include pharmaceutical drugs, hand tools, bolts, screws, keys, screening, hospital supplies, furniture, and engineering equipment and supplies.

To Qualify

In order to qualify as a small business, a firm must be independently owned and operated and not be dominant in its field of business. In addition, the business must not be an affiliate of another concern, not have over 25 employees or more than $1 million in annual receipts (for non-manufacturing concerns) or 50 employees and $5 million in annual receipts for manufacturing concerns.

Interested small businesses are urged to write to Mr. John S. Babich, Chief of Procurement, Department of General Services, 915 Capitol Mall, Room 335, Sacramento, Calif. 95814.

Seniors' Tax Forms Mailed

Seniors Citizens Property Tax Assistance claim forms for 1975 are being mailed now, according to James R. Mills, President Pro Tempore.

Almost 310,000 Californians over 62 years who received property tax assistance payments last year, and individuals who already have requested claim forms, will receive them through the mail, Mills said.

Assistance payments last year totaled $50 million, an average of $161 per claimant, according to Franchise Tax Board records.

The program provides property tax relief to elderly homeowners who have limited income. Filing season begins on Friday, and ends on September 2.

File Early

Claimants are advised to file as early as possible. To qualify, an individual must be 62 years or older as of January 1, 1975, and must be a California resident on that date. In addition, he must own and occupy his home from July 1, 1974, through June 30, 1975, and have a total household income for 1974 of not more than $10,000.

There have been several significant changes in the law this year. These are explained in the filing instructions; however, additional information and assistance is available by writing to Senior Citizens Property Tax Assistance, P.O. Box 1588, Sacramento, CA., 95807.

Claim forms and instructions also may be obtained by writing or calling Senator James R. Mills' district office, 815 3rd ave., Chula Vista, CA. 92011, telephone number 427-7812.

The clinic is under the sponsorship of the County Veterinary Medical Assn. Members are donating their time.

Additionally, owners must contact SDC VMA at 466-3400 prior to the clinic.

A spokesman for the group said the clinic location is ground level, just off the parking lot.

A vaccination certificate will be given for each cat.

Mercy Stops Referrals From Tijuana Clinics

The Board of Directors at Mercy Hospital has decided to discontinue the hospital's policy of accepting non-citizen patients referred from two clinics located in Tijuana. Patients were referred by interns and residents sent to the clinics by the Medical Education Department.

The Board's decision was based on the fact that these patients, due to their economic situation, are unable to pay for services rendered by the Mercy Clinic.

The Mexican Government makes no provision to pay for medical services received outside of their country, according to a spokesman for Mercy Hospital. As a result, these patients have been maintained at an annual loss to the hospital of over $750,000.

Mexican nationals who were admitted to the Mercy Clinic at the time of the policy change will either continue to be seen in the clinic or will be referred to a similar facility in their own country, Mercy's Administrator Edward Hertfelder said.

Americans Use Most Phones

The old cartoon of a harried businessman setted at a desk with phones growing out of his ears is more than just a fantasy in four of the nation's cities where there are more telephones than people. They are Washington, D.C., Champaign, Ill., Southfield, Mich. and Palto Alto, Ca.

The authority for this and other assorted telephonic trivia is "The World's Telephones," a booklet recently published by American Telephone & Telegraph Co.

This is the first year that Palto Alto and Champaign, two college communities, have the distinction of having more phones than people.

The San Diego Metropolitan Extended area has 74.9 phones per 100 persons.

As could be expected, there are more phones in the United States than anywhere else in the world . . . about 138 million of them. In fact, the combined telephone totals in Europe, South America, Middle America and Africa fail to match the number in the U. S.

188 Million Calls

With all those phones, you just know that Americans are the most talkative . . . and they are by a wide margin. Statistics in the booklet show that in 1973 (it takes a year to compile figures which accounts for the 12-month lag) Americans made 188 billion calls. That's four times as many as runner-up Japan.

Although the U. S. maintains a wide edge in the total number of phones and calls, the Republic of Korea has experienced the greatest phone growth over the past 10 years . . . up 493.3 per cent . . . while China (Taiwan) achieved the largest individual growth rate between 1973 and 1974 . . . 24.4 per cent.

Other figures show that there was a record gain of 23.4 million telephones, or 7.5 per cent, in the world in '73 and that the worldwide figure of 336,297 has increased nearly 97 per cent over the past decade.

But if it's privacy you're seeking where neither your nerves nor the phones will jangle, then good old Pitcairn Island still claims the dubious distinction of having the fewest number of telephones . . . just 25 of them.

'One At A Time,' PUC Tells PacTel

The California Public Utilities Commission has put Pacific Telephone on notice it would not begin to process the phone company's latest request for a rate increase until the PUC has acted on the phone company's current rate increase application.

Pacific filed an application for a $131.2 million increase on February 13, 11 days before the start of public hearings on a prior application for a $97 million increase. Those hearings are scheduled thru June 10.

In a letter to Pacific, the PUC said its staff is overburdened with requests for rate increases and that attention must first be given to those requests that relate to the most recent time periods. Pacific's request is based on a test year ending June 30, 1976.

The PUC directed Pacific to inform its customers by bill insert that the Commission will not schedule public hearings on their latest request until late this year and that any increase granted will not become effective until next year at the earliest.

$20 Million Interest Paid By Gibraltar

A record $20 million in interest was paid Gibraltar Savings account holders during the first quarter of 1975, Richard Jenkins, manager of Gibraltar's La Mesa and Mira Mesa offices, announced.

The record interest payment was the result of the largest savings inflow in Gibraltar's 53-year history during the first three months of 1975, Jenkins said, as well as the addition of 10 new branches last year.

Gibraltar Savings, with assets of $1.6 billion, and 54 office locations throughout California, is the sixth largest of the nation's 5100 savings and loan associations.

A Lemon Grove office will be opened at Broadway and College mid-year.

IRS TAX ANSWERS

F. S. Schmidt, DISTRICT DIRECTOR, INTERNAL REVENUE SERVICE

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U. S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

Q. I just bought a house. Are all the points I paid to get a loan tax deductible?

A. Deductibility depends on the type of points you paid. The term points is sometimes used to describe charges you may pay as a mortgage-borrower to a lender in the form of loan origination fees, maximum loan charges or premium charges. If you must pay any of these charges as a compensation solely for the use of loan money, such points are regarded as interest. The amounts are deductible in full in the year you pay them unless the deduction causes a material distortion of your income in that year. However, if the payment of charges for points is compensation for specific services that the lender performs in connection with the borrower's account, the payment is not interest, and therefore is not deductible. Examples of this type of charge are lender's appraisal fee, the cost of preparing the mortgage note or deed of trust, settlement fees and notary fees. A typical nondeductible point situation is the charge for services in connection with obtaining a Veterans' Administration (VA) guaranteed loan.

Q. My broker sold some stocks for me and there was a profit. I didn't receive the money from the sale but instead requested the broker to reinvest the whole amount. Do I have to pay tax on this money since I didn't really receive it?

A. Yes. The fact that you don't withdraw profits from your brokerage or any other account does not postpone the taxation of those profits. They are fully taxable in the year earned, even if the credit balance in your accounts may be reduced or eliminated by losses in later years, or your current profits are used to reduce or eliminate a debit balance incurred in prior years.

Q. Where do I show depreciation of business property on my tax return?

A. On Form 1040, depreciation on self-employment business property is deductible on Schedule C. Show depreciation on rental property on Schedule E. If you claim employee business expenses as an outside salesman, all depreciation expenses are included on line 41 of Form 1040. Other employees incurring allowable business expenses including automobile depreciation on line 41, and any other allowable depreciation on line 33 of Schedule A, Itemized Deductions.

Q. Does the deduction for transportation to get medical care include the cost of the ambulance I used when I had an appendicitis attack?

A. Yes, Ambulance hire is a deductible medical expense. Report it with your other medical expenses on Schedule A of Form 1040.

Dear Editor:

I want to take this occasion to thank you for the excellent editorial in "The Dimmer View" on Chiang Kai-Shek. I think your thinking on this matter was magnificent and this editorial is worthy of the old SATURDAY EVENING POST. No one could have stated the case in a more definite way. I am cutting it out and sending it on to the President of the United States and I will see to it it gets to him.

I want to also thank you for the way you have sustained the good things in our community over these many years and the way you have fought for the best in life amongst our young people.

My physical condition lately has not been good. I have been unable to participate either in the Kiwanis or other local organizations and the things that are going on. But I am interested nevertheless, especially in the movement to incorporate Lemon Grove as an independent community.

With God's richest blessing on you and your family, I remain ever your friend.

C.A. Appoints Council Chairman

Frank C. Damrell, a Modesto attorney, will chair the California Consumer Advisory Council for 1975-76, the Department of Consumers Affairs announced last week. The Council is composed of 7 members — one Senator, one Assemblyman, two business men, one labor representative and two volunteer consumer agency representatives — charged with holding public hearings and recommending any necessary legislation to the director.

Loses Jeep Radio

Gary G. Jaecks, on leave from the Army, visiting his brother, Dennis, at 8039 Robbie way, Lemon Grove on May 5,, parked his jeep in the garage.

Someone entered the premises during the night and removed the jeep's radio. The loss was listed at $210.

Energy Stamps Back For Aged

Senior citizens who live on fixed incomes are having a hard time keeping up with rising utility costs, according to a study recently released by the County's Office of Senior Citizens Affairs (OSCA).

Utility increases levied by San Diego Gas and Electric have shot up three times as fast as increases granted by the Social Security Administration in the last two years, the study says.

Social Security benefits have gone up 11.3 percent since January 1974, the report states.

Electricity rates during that time rose 56%, gas bills went up 39% and water rates rose 110%

"The gap between public utility rates and benefits paid senior citizens on Social Security is putting a great strain on seniors with limited budgets," said Wayne Shipley, OSCA's environmentalist specialist.

He said that SDG&E's recent request for a $119.4 million annual rate increase will put an even greater burden on seniors. The proposed increase would raise electric rates another 33% and hike up gas rates an additional 14%.

Shipley is supporting SDG&E's recent suggestion that energy stamps be provided for the poor, aged and unemployed.

S.V. Firm Awarded $3 Million Contract

SAN DIEGO — Washington Public Power Supply System of Richland, Washington, has awarded U. S. Elevator Corp. a contract valued at more than $3 million for special freight elevators, the Spring Valley company announced here.

Twelve cable-driven elevators and four dumbwaiters will be installed in two WPPSS nuclear power plants by the Cubic Corp. subsidiary. Engineering work on the pact has begun with deliveries scheduled in a two-year time frame, the elevator manufacturer said.

The concern is the sixth largest producer of elevators in the country. It maintains a 250,000 sq. ft. facility in Spring Valley and operates sales and service offices nationally.

Addicts Invent Drug Scheme

A call from a pharmacist regarding the petty theft of a prescription has led Sheriff's fraud investigators onto a method of illegally obtaining prescription drugs.

Detective Dick Rabell said the method of operation involves the drug addict going through a phone book after working hours, looking for a doctor associated with several other doctors.

He said the addict calls the doctors' office and gets an answering service who puts the caller in contact with the on-call doctor. The doctor is told the caller is a patient of one of the other associates listed in the phone book, but claims the regular doctor cannot be reached.

"All during the call the addict feigns distress. The doctor becomes convinced and phones the asked for prescription to a pharmacist named by the caller. The addict then goes to the drug store and pays for the prescription," Rabell said.

"Our break came when this addict came to pick up the prescription and didn't have enough money to pay for it. She grabbed the bottle and ran out of the store. The pharmacist got the license number. He called us, we made the arrest, and uncovered this illegal method of getting controlled drugs," Rabell said.

Brotus Leads Talk on Changing Community

Ambrose Brotus of the Urban League is guest discussion leader at a public conference Tuesday, 7:30 p.m., at Monterey Heights Elementary school, 7550 Canton dr., Lemon Grove.

The meeting is sponsored by the Human Relations committee of the PTA.

Discussion centers around the changing economic and ethnic patterns of the community.

Pete Wilson Joins S.D. County 'Hope,'

San Diego Mayor Pete Wilson has been named honorary chairman of the annual "Hope Month" fund drive for the City of Hope throughout June in San Diego County, actress Rhonda Fleming, honorary general chairman said this week.

In accepting the chairmanship Mayor Wilson said, "In 1974 the City of Hope provided more Southern Californians with free patient care, therapy and family services than any time in its 62-year history."

"We are making progress against cancer and leukemia, maladies of the heart, blood, chest, diabetes, lupus, Huntington's disease and other disorders of heredity and metabolism because of treatment and research at the City of Hope made possible by all of us with our dollars."

Wilson will head hundreds of volunteers who will ring doorbells in San Diego County in June, seeking funds for the free, nonsectarian medical center where no patient pays.

Sheriff Seeks S.V. Woman

Sheriff's homicide detectives are searching for a 29-year-old Spring Valley woman who disappeared under mysterious circumstances April 27.

She is Beverly Jean Ribley, described as a 5'1", 100 pound caucasian with long dark brown hair and green eyes.

"We have no evidence of foul play and would normally consider this as one of the common cases where an adult simply wants to run away for awhile. But after talking to Mrs. Ribley's friends and relatives, this disappearance seems completely out of character for her," Detective Bill Sullivan said.

Some of the factors which Sullivan considers not in keeping with the woman's normal behavior include the fact that her car was left in her driveway.

"She would never go away and leave her car behind," explained her mother. Mrs. Chester M. Holman, 4608 Tony ln., San Diego.

Another factor is her employment record.

"She has been a beautician in the Mission Valley May Company for nine years and also works a refreshment stand at the Stadium. According to her employers and fellow workers, she was always conscientious about calling in if she was going to be late or absent. She did not do so on Monday, April 28," Sullivan said.

Then there are her cats.

"She lived alone with her two cats at Trace road, Spring Valley, since separating from her husband nearly a year ago. Her friends and relatives say she loved those cats as if they were her babies and was always concerned for their welfare. They were left alone in the house," they said.

The most convincing factor is her father's heart condition.

"She was very concerned for her father's health. She knows how bad his heart is and would do nothing to aggravate that condition. She would do anything to protect him and nothing to hurt him," her mother said.

Sheriff's detectives ask that anyone knowing Mrs. Ribley's whereabouts or having information relative to her disappearance to notify them.

Food Stamp Allotments Up July 1

The U. S. Department of Agriculture announced that food stamp allotments and maximum income eligibility standards will be increased on July 1 by about five per cent.

The Food Stamp Act, as amended by the Agriculture and Consumer Protection Act of 1973—Public Law 93-86—directs that coupon allotments be adjusted semi-annually to reflect changes in food prices as published by the Bureau of Labor Statistics. Maximum income eligibility standards are based on allotments and are therefore adjusted at the same time.

Household numbers and corresponding maximum eligibility standards effective July 1 are as follows:

One, $215; two, $300; three, $427; four, $540; five, $640; six, $740; seven, $833; and eight, $926.

For each additional household member over eight, add $73 to the eight-person figure.

Allotment adjustments are based on the cost of USDA's Economy Food Plan as it is computed from Bureau of Labor Statistics food prices.

Students Have It Their Way On Tour

Children of Lemon Grove's special education class had it their way last week. On a tour of the facilities of Burger King on Broadway, each student, led by Mrs. Dorothy Neumann, got a behind-the-counter look at the operation of a fast food restaurant.

The children were permitted to call their own orders through the PA system and fry their own hamburgers on the restaurant's conveyor-driven oven, while students of the math class operated the cash registers.

Restaurant manager Mike Savoy conducted the tour and explained other areas of operation to the class.

Mrs. Neumann has handled the special education class for the Lemon Grove School District for eight years at San Altos school.

THANKS FOR THE TOUR go to manager Mike Savoy as Ricky Lentz and classmates present a card expressing their appreciation.

CALLING THE ORDER is student John Ribar using the restaurant's PA system while other classmates wait their turn.

MATH PROGRESS is demonstrated by student Craig Castaneda who tallies up an order on Burger King's cash register.

Conference Studies Sun as Energy Source

A major one-day public conference concerning the use of solar energy as a possible solution to the present and future energy needs of the United States will be held Saturday, at the University of California, San Diego, UCSD.

The conference, titled "Solar Energy: Future Prospects and Present Reality," is the second annual energy conference sponsored by UCSD's Third College. It will begin at 10 a.m. in room 2722 of the Undergraduate Sciences Building and is free and open to the public. Tickets are available through the Third College Provost's Office.

The conference brings together a group of distinguished, nationally known experts to present a straight-forward, everyday language discussion of solar energy and its future potential in Southern California. Included will be representatives from industry, education and research institutions, and state government.

According to Dr. Joseph Watson, provost of the Third College and UCSD Associate Professor of Chemistry, solar energy represents a source of of non-polluting, virtually inexhaustible energy that is literally at our doorstep.

"Although oil and gas reserves will be exhausted in 30 to 40 years at present rates of consumption, solar energy will be available for as long as the sun shines, at least another few billion years," he said.

The basic technology for the utilization of solar energy has been commercially available since the 1930's. With the increasing fuel costs, solar energy has now become economically competitive for space and water heating in a number of regions."

According to the provost, enough solar energy falls on sunny Southern California to meet the total energy needs of the United States twenty times over.

Dr. Standford Penner, director of the UCSD Energy Center, will serve as the conference moderator and will open the session at 10 a.m. with "A Survey of Solar Energy Options."
